Look out for the warning signs:

1 Unexpected contact

Via cold calls
Online, through social media or emails
By post
In person, at seminars or events
Through word of mouth

2 Social pressure

Fraudsters may claim that others are investing or have already done so. They might also share false testimonials to convince you.

3 Time pressure

You might be offered a bonus or discount if you invest quickly, or be told that the opportunity is only available for a limited time.

4 Convincing information

Scammers may have professional-looking websites or brochures. They might speak knowledgeably about investment products or even claim to be regulated.

5 Flattery

They could attempt to build a personal connection with you, gaining your trust and lowering your guard.

6 Unrealistic returns

Be cautious of promises of high returns that seem too good to be true.

How to PROTECT YOURSELF from scams

There are some simple steps you can take to help protect yourself from scams.

If you're not sure about something, seek advice from a trusted source.

- Don't be rushed into making any quick decisions.
- Never give your personal details or money to anyone you don't know or trust. If someone pressures you for money or sensitive information, like passwords or bank details, it is most likely a scam.
- Before you buy anything, spend a few minutes checking the company or website you're using. You can read reviews from different websites, search for the company's details on gov.uk, and take a look at their terms and conditions.
- Pay by debit or credit card. This gives you extra protection if things go wrong.
- Be suspicious. Scammers may appear like a trusted business, have a professional website and say all the right things. Take your time to work out if they're genuine. Ask them for ID or contact the organisation on a number you know and trust.
- Make sure your antivirus software is up-to-date.
- Make your online accounts secure. Make sure you have a strong password for your email accounts that you don't use anywhere else.
